

Women of Influence

Sponsored by  Lake Shore Savings
Putting People First.

PROUDEST ACCOMPLISHMENT: Having the ability to work in a field where I've been able to touch the lives of so many children and adults with developmental disabilities.

NONPROFIT LEADERSHIP

Tracy Panzarella

Director of Clinical Services, Autism Services, Inc.

- ▶ Born in: Buffalo • Lives in: Amherst • tpanzarella@autism-services-inc.org • Joined company: 2002 • Years in my field: 16
- ▶ All about: I grew up in a very traditional family – my father worked in a factory and my mother was stay-at-home. My younger brother and I were blessed with a very happy childhood, and our parents instilled a very strong work ethic and set of values in both of us.
- ▶ College: B.A., speech and hearing science, University at Buffalo; M.A., communicative disorders and sciences/ speech-language pathology, University at Buffalo
- ▶ When I'm not working, I'm: Cooking, baking, reading, shopping, gardening, attending concerts and plays, spending time with family and friends.
- ▶ Most fun event in the last year: My recent birthday. I had several celebrations with my family, friends, and co-workers, including a surprise party and brunch. This year was also made very special due to the addition of an adorable rescue dog into my life.
- ▶ Would like to meet: Jesus Christ
- ▶ Self-description: Authentic
- ▶ I can't get rid of: A pair of Mickey Mouse ears from a trip to Disneyland when I was 4.
- ▶ Career advice, Twitter style: Be persistent and don't give up, no matter what it is you want in your career or life.
- ▶ This keeps me up at night: Unfinished work and a to-do list that never ends.
- ▶ This might surprise people: I was very shy when I was younger.
- ▶ My wishful super power: Ability to fly